Studies of Society and Environment (SOSE) is studied by all students at San Sisto College. SOSE is one of the learning areas defined in the National Curriculum Statements and Profiles for Australian Schools. It is an amalgam of History, Geography and Commerce. At San Sisto, SOSE concentrates on the areas of History and Geography. Commerce is offered as an elective to give students a taste of the following subjects which are offered in the senior secondary:

- Legal Studies
- Economics
- Accounting

These subjects, along with Commerce, provide students with valuable life skills. They also prepare students for career paths in many professions including accounting and finance, advertising, banking and commerce, environmental management, journalism and media, law and real estate.

Topics include:

- Being Entrepreneurial
- Marketing
- Business Venture
- Legislation specific to business enterprises
- The Goods and Services Tax
- Source Documents for a Trading Enterprise
- Accounting Package - MYOB

Commerce builds knowledge and skills by using inquiry-based learning activities incorporating investigation, communication and participation.
